GEN. PERSHING AND GEN. FOCH APPEAL TO THE Y. M. C. A.

Renewed appeals from General Pershing and General Foch, together with the plans of the government at Washington to have nearly 1,500,000 in France by September, have resulted in a new drive by the National War Works Council of the Y. M. C. A. to recruit approximately 4,000 business and professional men for overseas duty during the summer. New York City has accepted a quota of 1,000 men above draft age to serve the soldiers, about in Red Triangle huts and other Y. M. C. A. recruiting organizations over the country are making an effort to enlist the services of 3,000 other men.

"The men most needed here are the men most needed in France today," says an announcement received here today by C. F. Lender, secretary of the local Young Men's Christian Association. "The Y. M. C. A. is basing its appeal for men on the grounds that there is no job in France too small for the biggest man in any American community. The Y. M. C. A. workers in France have had to become a part of the military machine. General Pershing relies upon the association to keep up the morale of the troops so that with military training they may become the most efficient fighting machines that ever went into active war service."

"First of all, there is a pressing demand for men who are natural leaders, men who are real men, good mixers and capable of exerting the proper influence. These leaders are assigned as hut secretaries, in which position they will require a versatility almost inconceivable. They must be above the fighting age, but must be able to undergo as searching a physical examination as does the man admitted to the combat branches of the service. Ambassador Sharp, in a recent appeal for more workers, emphasized the fact that many were breaking under the terrific strain."

"That is the answer to those who regard the Y. M. C. A. as a paradise for pacifists, a refuge for slackers. We can use none of them in our service. At least one in eight or ten of our workers in France is in the shell zone. Recent dispatches have told of the gassing of our workers, of their death or serious injury caused by bursting shrapnel. The uniform of the Red Triangle is not for the man who does not want to go to war. It is the uniform that every 'middle-aged' man should aspire to wear. Although it gives him no military rank it gives him the opportunity for patriotic service and for distinction many 'Y' workers in France have already been cited for bravery."

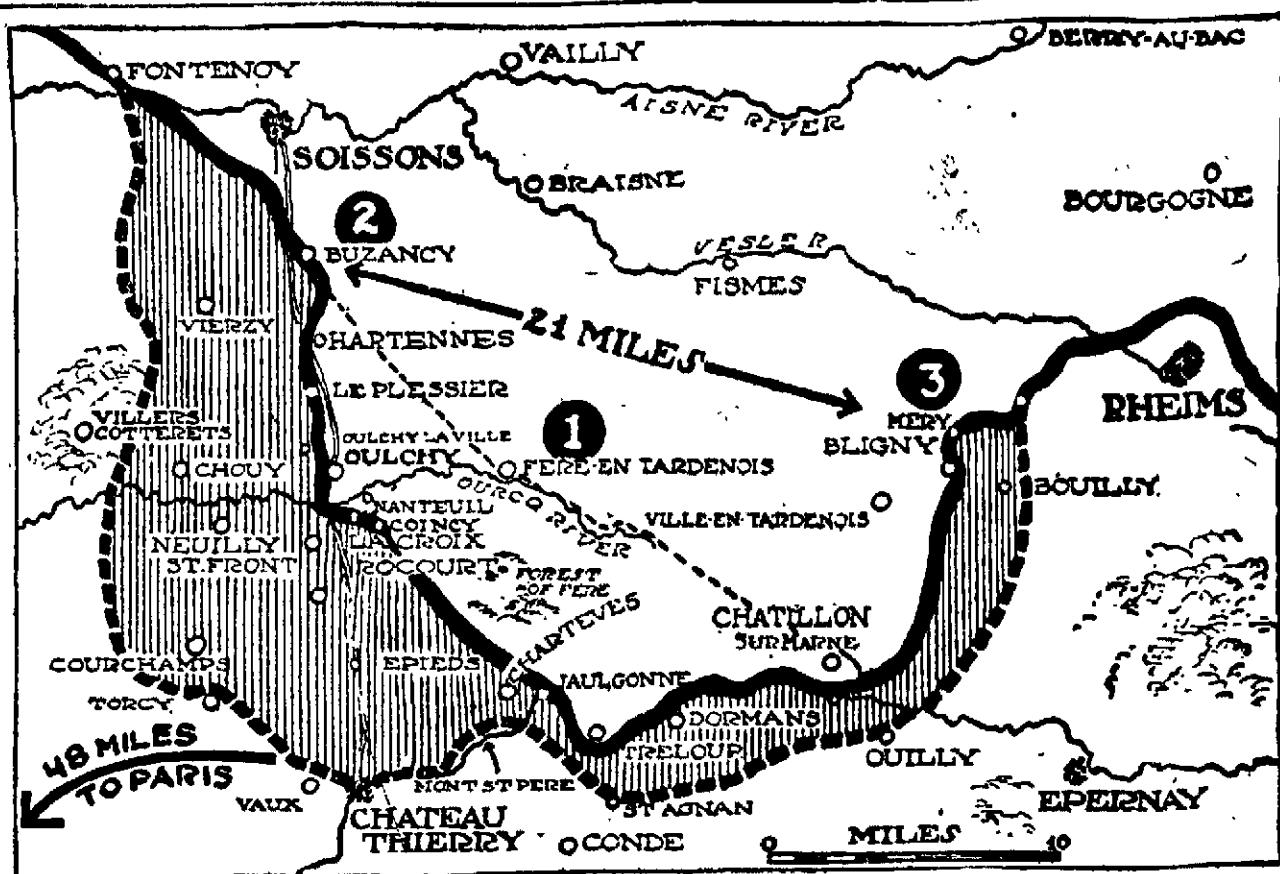

Further fields of usefulness require experts in sports and education, and motor mechanics. Hundreds of men with a capacity for leadership in mass athletics are needed. Men who drive their own automobiles are being recruited for the motor transport service in France. Prominent educators are enlisting for the great Klaki college that General Pershing has authorized in conjunction with the training in the concentration camps back of the western front.

The War Personnel Board of the Central Military Department, comprising fifteen middle western states, reached its high mark in recruiting men and women for Y. M. C. A. service in June, when a total of 747 men and women were enrolled. This was considered a typical month in recruiting. Of this number 495 men and 25 women were assigned to overseas duty. The number enlisted for work in the home camps was 229 men. Illinois and Chicago took the lead in recruiting, with a total of 144 men and women assigned to foreign and domestic duty. Ohio followed with 83 men and women and Iowa took third place with 73 recruits. Indiana and Kentucky tied for fourth place, with 69 recruits from each state. Other states represented in a table of totals for recruiting just received are as follows: Colorado, 34; Kansas, 37; Michigan, 41; Minnesota, 64; Missouri, 52; Nebraska, 25; North Dakota, 15; South Dakota, 4; Wisconsin, 34; Canada, 2.

WHERE AMERICANS AND FRENCH CONTINUE THEIR DRIVE

Recent official reports indicate that the American and French forces are following up their advantages in the Chateau-Thierry district and continuing to force back the Germans.

Petrograd where property is confiscated and incomes have vanished. Some of those on the Nevsky are girls, pretty ones, and they walk the long length of the street all the day and into the night asking for the little postage stamps that pass for money in Russia now—because they are hungry. And then there are other girls, and the number grows larger every day, who do not exactly beg but look wistful and hungry and sell themselves, instead of biscuits or chocolate or newspapers, to the rolicking sailors and debauched speculators.

One of the mysteries of Russia is where the vendors of cakes and biscuits get the things they sell. There is absolutely no flour to be had and the bread allowance per person, which one some times gets and some times don't, is one half a pound daily for the proletariat and one eighth of a pound daily for the bourgeois. The bread is black and heavy and its ingredients cannot be identified. Sugar cannot be obtained in the shops. In the homes, horse meats, dried cabbage, what bread is available is the principal diet of the majority. Eggs, butter and milk are high in price and extremely scarce.

Formerly an income of 200 rubles a month was comparative opulence. Now, according to the best estimates available, it costs from 2,500 to 3,000 rubles a month to maintain a family of three in anything like comfort. Most of the families in Petrograd, even with wages soaring, have less than 1,000 rubles a month. But even the wealthy suffer hunger pangs because transportation is crippled and the city is cut off from the Ukraine, its principal flour and sugar producing territory, and from the nearby Finnish and Baltic communities that once supplied it with butter and eggs and vegetables.

In the city's largest hotels, some formerly among the show places of Europe, there are no electric lights, no elevators, no hot water, and generally, no food. One provides always his own bread and must keep under lock and key. A dinner in one of the better class restaurants costs forty rubles.

But the city struggles on, now desperately and now nonchalantly. It strives to adapt itself to the topsy-turveness of its present life.

OVER $700,000 WORTH OF STAMPS HAVE BEEN SOLD

Licking county's cash sales of War Savings Stamps passed the $700,000 mark this week, the total to Thursday night being $706,325. This week's sales amounting to $20,616. The pledges obtained at the Madame Petrova meeting Wednesday night do not count until they are turned into cash by the purchase of stamps.

The Licking County banks had a sale of $9,892 this week, the Granville postoffice $1,768, the Newark and other Licking county postoffices $8,956.

As the county's quota for the year is $1,236,180, the amount of war stamps to be sold in this county is $529,855 and this the Licking county war work organization will attempt to accomplish in a four day drive beginning August 6.

Already four Ohio counties, Ashland, Morrow, Morgan and Knox have sold their entire year's quota of war stamps. Pledges are not counted. Cash in bank only is counted.

Licking county has sold a larger number of W. S. S. than any of those that are "over the top" but the population of this county is greater and the stamp quota is determined by population, being $20 for every person in Ohio.

During the next few days patriotic meetings in the interest of the stamp campaign will be held throughout the county by the speakers bureau of the war work organization of which Mr. E. C. Wright is chairman.

Licking has gone "over the top" in every war campaign so far and it will of course buy its quota of war savings stamps.

There are 321 people or firms in this county who are members of the "Limit Club"—buyers of 200 $5 stamps. This is a greater number than any other county in Ohio and it is because of this large membership in the Thousand Dollar Club that Licking has sold her quota of stamps

FURTHER ADVANCES

ing their efforts on the work of clearing the Germans out of the wooded areas to the south and southwest of Ferre-en-Tardenois. This was said to have been nearly accomplished.

In spite of the general expectation that the Germans are fighting on the southern side of the salient to cover the retreat of their armies and the salvaging of the vast supplies piled up along the Marne in preparation of the great offensive which began July 15 there appears to be a disposition on the part of some of the military experts to consider the possibility of a new German attack somewhere on the battle line between Soissons and Rheims. The stubborn manner in which the enemy has been fighting and his failure to attack on some other sector it is contended, points to the fact that the Germans are committed to a renewed offensive along the Marne in the hope of still winning a victory there.

Along the British front near Arras and Lens and along the Somme sector the German artillery has been active, British raiding parties have been active at various points along their line.

CLAIM STRIKERS WILL NOT BE INTIMIDATED BY THREAT OF GOVERNMENT

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, July 27.—The announcement last night of Premier Lloyd George that all workmen absent from factories on or after Monday will be deemed to have voluntarily placed themselves outside the munition industry and that they will be liable to military service, was issued too late to reach the bulk of the strikers last night. Consequently it was not generally known in the strike areas.

It was, however, communicated to the strike-leaders at some centers by newspaper men to whom the leaders declared they were confident that the strikers would not be intimidated or driven to resume work by the government's threat. The leaders added that such a possibility had been considered fully beforehand.

No reports reached London last night of an extension of the strike and the great bulk of the workers still remain unaffected. Such important centers as London, Manchester, Leeds, Nottingham and Huddersfield, for instance, remain cool.

FOOD SITUATION CRITICAL

(Associated Press Telegram)

ASK CHURCHES TO OBSERVE TOMORROW AS "SERBIA DAY"

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, July 27.—The churches of America were called upon today by Secretary Lansing to observe tomorrow, the fourth anniversary of Serbia's refusal to meet the demands made by Austria, as "Serbia Day" and "to give expression to their sympathy with this wronged people and their oppressed and dominated kindred in other lands and to invoke the blessing of Almighty God upon them and the cause to which they are pledged."

High tribute was paid to the heroism of Serbia by Secretary Lansing in the following words:
"On Sunday, twenty-eighth of the present month, will occur the fourth anniversary of the day when the gallant people of Serbia, rather than submit to the studied and ignoble exactions of a carefully-prepared attack, were called upon by the war declaration of Austria-Hungary to defend their territory and their homes against an enemy bent upon their destruction. Nobly did they respond."

"So valiantly and courageously did they oppose the forces of a country ten times greater in population and resources that it was only after they had thrice driven the Austrians back and Germany and Bulgaria had come to the aid of Austria that their armies were compelled to retreat into Albania. While their territory has been devastated and their homes despoiled, the spirit of the Serbian people has not been broken."

"Though overwhelmed by superior forces, their love of freedom remains unabated. Brutal force has not affected their firm determination to sacrifice everything for liberty and independence."

In giving expression to sympathy for Serbia, Secretary Lansing urged the American people not to forget "the kindred people of the great Slavic race who now dominated and oppressed by alien races, yearn for independence and national unity."

THE GERMANS HOLD

NORTH BANK OF THE
MARNE FOR 8 MILES

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, July 27.—Discussing the latest operations and the German position within the Marne salient, Reuters' correspondent with the American troops in France under date of Friday says it is well to remember that the Germans still hold the north bank of the Marne for some eight miles from Vincennes to Reuil. This has not yet been disputed with them.

This alone, he adds, is proof that the enemy is not in a very desperate hurry to withdraw from the salient, if it is not also a hint that he has a large accumulation of stores near the river which it is difficult to remove.

"The French guns in this sector," the correspondent continues, "continually are exploding great dumps of ammunition which reveals how thick they are."

"The early success of the French counter-attack has bred a disposition to expect further rapid advances and perhaps huge captures, but the fighting in the salient offers to the aggressor only the advantage obtainable from the enemy's congested condition and that cuts both ways, as it leaves masses of men to dispose of."

"Our progress the past week gave the enemy ample time to begin reorganization outside the salient. We are not likely to go much further without discovering a disposition to withstand us."

We may regard with some speculation the enemy's intentions along the river front. His position may not be an enviable one but there are points in it not unfavorable to an attack."

Mr. and Mrs. F. Guy Jones of Redlands, California, will arrive in this city this evening, where they will be the guests of friends over Sunday. They will leave Monday morning for New York from where Mr. Jones will leave almost immediately for France, having enlisted in the Y. M. C. A. War Work.

CALM PROVIDES A REST FOR WEARIED ALLIED TROOPS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, July 27.—Development behind the lull in fighting which yesterday with slight exceptions settled over the operations of the allied troops of the Alsace-Marne salient, today of officials here. Speculation was made as to whether the cessation of the intensive hammering at the jaws of the trap set for the Germans by General Foch might not mean that the allied commander was bringing up fresh troops with a view to celebrating the fourth anniversary of the beginning of the war by a great victory. To other observers the apparent calm meant that the allied staff had decided to await the arrival of additional American forces and resources before embarking on general offensive operations.

Unofficial dispatches gave no indication of the important developments that are pending. No intimations of the plans of the allied command were to be held in official circles. The weekly statement today by General March, chief of staff, to the press was awaited with more interest than at any time since the custom of weekly conferences was inaugurated.

It was pointed out that the partial stopping of the steady drive of the Franco-American forces south of Soissons and the British, French and Italian troops in the vicinity of Rheims was not to be interpreted in any way as meaning that the offensive had been brought to a standstill by German resistance. Confidence was expressed that the plans of General Foch provide for a resumption of the drive at an early date. Weather conditions yesterday described as unsuitable for aerial observation was held as possible responsibility.

At the present stage of the great battle a period of calm is considered of far greater benefit to the allied armies than the enemy. Rest for the wearied allied troops must be provided as human endurance has its limits. Artillery action, reported in the French official statement last night, was counted upon to prevent the enemy from using the lull to strengthen his positions or rest his forces. Possibilities of the enemy making further withdrawals of men and supplies from the extended period of partial inactivity.

DOROTHY DALTON PLUS VACATION TRUNKS.

Even the busy motion picture star must take a vacation some time or other. Very often the film queen is not as fortunate as the shop girl in this respect, for when the admiring populace demands pictures and more pictures, what is the poor screen favorite going to do? Dorothy Dalton, the popular Paramount-ince star, has not had a vacation in many moons, but this summer she had the pleasure of packing her vacation trunk—or, rather, trunks, for there were many of them—and leaving dull care behind for a few weeks. By working hard all day and well into the night for several weeks Miss Dalton finished her new picture, "The Kaiser's Shadow," well in advance of its release date and then said au revoir to the Cooper Hewitts, rushed to the depot and left Los Angeles for her first visit to New York. Like a conquering heroine, Miss Dalton carried everything before her on her eastern tour. At the stations along the line of travel she was greeted by hosts of admirers and newspaper men, ending her trip with a final reception in New York, where she is now visiting the aquarium, the Statue of Liberty and other points of interest, so they

MAJOR LEAGUERS MUST END SEASON SEPTEMBER 1ST

Washington, July 27.—Baseball club owners and players today prepared to adjust themselves to the decision of Secretary Baker postponing until September 1 the effective time for applying the work or fight regulations to professional players. The secretary in announcing his decision denied the appeal of the National Baseball Commission to extend the application of the regulations to Oct. 15. Enforcement of the regulations on Sept. 1 will cut short the major league season about five weeks. Extension of time was granted, Secretary Baker announced on account of the interpretation of an earlier statement by the war department as meaning that the question of application would not be decided until a case involving the regulations arose. In his decision the secretary was emphatic in pointing out that prosecution of the war is the all important consideration at the present time and that the chief interest of the war department and of the public is raising the strongest possible military force.

HAS ACCEPTED THE CROWN OF FINLAND

Paris, July 27.—The crown of Finland has been offered to Duke Adolph Friedrich of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, and he accepted, says a Zurich dispatch to Le Journal. The offer was made by a deputation from the Finnish landtag. The duke will return with the deputation aboard a Finnish warship. The coronation, the dispatch adds, will take place within a few weeks.

It was reported early in May that negotiations were in progress to offer the Finnish crown to Duke Adolph Friedrich. Within the past week, however, dispatches from Scandinavia said that the Finnish landtag had refused to approve the erection of a monarchy under a German king. Duke Adolph Friedrich was born in Schwerin in 1873. He is a colonel in the Prussian guard and served for a time as governor of Tokoland. The duke is an uncle of the reigning grand duke of Mecklenburg-Schwerin and is unmarried.

STUDENT SOLDIERS AT CAMP SHERMAN IN COMBAT WORK

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., July 27.—Ping, whizz, and a blaze of light. Every object in "No Man's Land" was as prominent as the far sky and the steady stars. There was the faintest rustle out beyond the barbed entanglements. Crack! A sniper in the front line trench had spoken. The flare died and silence came again.

That was a rocket! Next came a light. And then more star-shells and flares and intense peering out over the sandbags. The 458 student soldiers in the officers' training school were getting their first practice in night combat work in the trenches.

From 10 o'clock until midnight last night the simulated fight continued. Within the trenches there was tense waiting, keen and alert watching. But out in front it was worse. There, when a flare went up, one tried to look like a pebble or a boulder, according to one's build. Usually one sought to sink to the pebbles dimensions. It nature gave one whiskers, one thought beautiful thoughts about trees and imitated a wild raspberry bush.

The night combat work was at the end of a week's grueling out in the trenches for the prospective officers. The course has been stiff, but it is nearly over now, and they are fit. And in this man's army, that is mainly what is required of officer material—to keep fit and ready for the real fight when these boys get into the line.

An order for the equipping of Camp Sherman soldiers for overseas service was issued here yesterday by command of Major General Hale. The camp memorandum which contains the specifications directs that when no overseas caps are available service hat and cord are to be issued. Bronze ornaments with the legend "U. S. S." indicating membership in the regular army, are ordered, but the present "U. S. N. A." insignia are to be permitted, until the supply is exhausted. The complete equipment for both officers and men is listed and new regulations for equipping material to be sent to points within the United States for service are also made.

CAUGHT BOY WHO RAN AWAY FROM THE INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

William Hopkins, 16, who ran away from the Boys Industrial school at Lancaster, July 26, was picked up at the show grounds yesterday evening. He had left the school and picked up with the circus. Officer Couch arrested the boy and Chief Sheridan identified him by a scar on the cheek. He refused to admit that he was Hopkins or that he belonged at the school. E. S. Brown from the school came to Newark this afternoon, identified him and will return with him this evening.

Cowardice a Disease?
The scientist is beginning to look upon cowardice as a disease that will respond to treatment. Nature does not treat all men alike. She gives to some of them too much caution and to others perhaps too little. The man to whom the larger share falls has more to overcome than his brother who has the lesser share. The coward is the man who has been overburdened with caution. Science believes that it can deprive him of a part of his burden and thereby make the coward courageous.

Practice "Safety First"

Many a boy and girl has found only grim disappointment when seeking a short cut to any desired goal. The short cuts to prosperity are so full of pitfalls and hummocks that the wise traveler decides to stick to his motto, "Safety First," and take the long way round. It's the shortest, at that, just as the proverb says. For the short cuts aren't through "cuts," like tunnels through mountains and such things; and the hummocks have to be climbed over and the pitfalls scrambled out of—there isn't a minute gained, and there are some losses far worse than losses of time.

Young Wild Animals That Play.

The relationship between play and submission to taming processes is very marked in wild animals. The young of the grizzly bear play little; the grizzly is rarely tamed. The young of the cinnamon bear are most sullen; the cinnamon bear is never tamed. The young of the black bear play like kittens. The baby baboon does not play, and no one would suggest a baboon for a pet, but the young of the macaque monkey play continuously, and easily become members of a household.

I AM GLAD TO ENDORSE PERUNA

Glad to Try Anything
"Three years ago my system was in a terribly run down condition and I was broken out all over my body. I began to be worried about my condition and I was glad to try anything which would relieve me. Peruna was recommended to me as a fine blood purifier and tonic, and I soon found that it was worthy of praise. A few bottles changed my condition materially and in a short time I was all over my trouble. I owe my restoration to health and strength to Peruna. I am glad to endorse it. Sold Everywhere."

1500 Tractor Outfits to Help The French Grow More Food

TYPE OF TRACTOR SENT ABROAD BY U. S. FOOD ADMINISTRATION.

American tractors—1500 of them—sent by the U. S. Food Administration, will battle hunger in France. When spring comes they will be in the field. They will help the French to grow 2,000,000 more tons of food. The idea of reinforcing the waning agricultural strength of France with American tractors originated with Henry Morgenthau, Jr. The Food Administration has designated Henry Morgenthau, Jr., to follow the machines to France and put them in operation. The first one hundred tractors were sent to France on the deck of a naval transport and the entire number will reach there in plenty of time for spring plowing.

The tractors will operate mainly in the battle-scarred portion of northern France which has been re-taken from the Germans. There property lines have been largely obliterated. The fields are consequently large and the batteries of tractors will be able to work most effectively. Thus in a few months food crops, especially wheat and potatoes, will be growing in French soil plowed by American tractors.

Corporal McLaughlin Writes from England

Member of Company L, 329th U. S. Infantry, 83rd Division, Sends Home Interesting Letter.

The following interesting letter from somewhere in England has been received by Mrs. McLaughlin of Ashland, Ohio, from her husband, Corporal C. E. McLaughlin, member of Company L, 329th Infantry, 83rd Division. June 26, 1918.—Somewhere in England, Dear Sadie and Charles: Will write you a few lines today as I have time. I am feeling fine and have been since I got over my sea sickness. But that didn't amount to much. I wish that I could sit down and write everything that I wanted to. It would be much more like writing. I don't mean things that we have done or how we got treated for we got treated as well as could be expected. We eat pretty good and also sleep good. Have straw stacks to sleep on. Things here are pretty much like they are in America. The houses are nearly all of brick and so many little towns. We were on the train most all day yesterday. They are so funny. One of our trains at home would make, I expect four of these here. You can't get from one coach to the other without getting off the train. Each coach has three compartments which holds eight men each, so each coach will accommodate twenty-four persons. The crops are just the same here as they are back home, only don't look so good. Well there is nothing here that looks as good as the U. S., for that is hard to beat. I saw some pretty places in Ireland and Scotland. It surely was a nice trip for us all. We had no trouble at all and we landed Sunday, July 23rd at about 10:30. We did not unload until Tuesday morning. I sure was glad to get off the boat. We are 6 hours faster here than we were in Ohio. Doesn't get dark until 11 o'clock. Don't suppose I will hear from you for at least three weeks. For we will keep moving around for awhile and when we get into camp we are going to stay awhile then we will get our mail. How is Charlie? Tell him I said hello, and would surely love to see you all. I suppose the men are working every day. I wish I was back working again. I would never say how hard the work is for that was it. The people in the United States have nothing to worry about only that they have some people over here fighting, and that ought not to worry them, for the largest part of them will be back. The only thing for them all to do is to save everything they can in every way. For

HENRY MORGENTHAU JR. IN CHARGE OF TRACTOR EXPEDITION.

Corporal C. E. McLaughlin, 83rd Division, American Expeditionary Forces

everything that is wasted is taking it away from us over here and that is what will win this war, money and food. We have the men and are going to win, and it takes food and lots of it, and the most of it will have to come from America. If everyone in the United States when they sit down to their meals that has two or three kinds of meat and all other necessary food would just stop and think; I wonder what my boy or some other boy is eating today? They surely would stop doing it and save. There was a time when we all wasted enough food to keep another nation as large as ours. I am never going to start and worry no matter what happens as long as I keep as well as I have been, I will sure be satisfied. I can do anything anyone else can and a bullet will not hit the any quicker or than it will someone else. I will try my best to keep my head in battle. That is where it takes a cool head. But I am coming back if anyone does. I can never die over here for I have too much in America to never get back. That is the way I feel about it and I believe that kind of a spirit will be quite a help to me. There have been thousands of lives lost by people going crazy in battle. But I guess they all go more or less crazy then. How is everything back there? Well I have written about all that I know and it is nearly time for retreat. So take good care of yourself. Charles, and write often. Tell me of Nora's to write, Dale and all down home. It is too much of a job to write to them all. I will write as often as I can and tell all the rest to write. So goodbye and don't worry about me for I am getting along fine and will as long as anyone else does. My address is just the same as it was.

Rabbit Can Fight.

A full-grown rabbit will give any cat more battle than she bargains for, says Harry B. Bradford, in Boys' Life, the Boy Scouts Magazine. In attacking other animals, a carnivorous animal always goes for the throat—a vital spot, but the herbivorous rabbit chooses no special spot to strike at a cat, just so it is "cat." He drives into it and bites it anywhere he strikes, and uses his hind legs and sharp claws to kick all the fur off his victim in the shortest possible space of time. I have even seen one of my rabbits turn and jump back at a small dog which had been chasing him and inflict a sharp bite on the dog's nose as he jumped into the astonished animal's face.

When a girl refuses an offer of marriage it piques her terribly if the young man doesn't immediately go to the dogs.

During the recent fighting on pitched camp there. The upper

the wrecked buildings to make

SOLDIERS' LETTERS

Editor of the Advocate: I am sending you under separate cover five medals which were among those issued for the men who left Newark on the 22nd of July, but which could not be distributed inasmuch as these men were either alternates who were not needed, or else were sick and unable to leave. I understand these men will leave early in August and I hope these medals may reach you in time for that call.
I also wish at this time to express my thanks for the medal which I received personally as an expression of appreciation from the people of Licking county to the boys who have gone into the service. I feel that I should like to express my appreciation of the spirit which prompted them to so generously contribute for this purpose, is equally sincere.
The medal which, as they desire, serve as a reminder that the "folks back home" are with us, and to me a more comfortable feeling is hard to imagine. I have shown these medals to a number of men from other localities but I have failed to find a county yet that should remember these men. That in itself should be sufficient proof of the pride we men from old Licking have in our medals. With warm regard to those who have so favored us, I am, very sincerely yours, Harry W. Rossel, 3rd Company, 1st Train B.N., 158
Deport Brigade, Camp Sherman,
Ohio.

Editor of the Advocate—I am in receipt a few days ago of the Licking County Medal of honor which you have sent me and I want to express to you in my humble way my deep appreciation of the same and want you to assure all those dear friends who have contributed to this fund that I am deeply indebted to them all.
I cannot feel at the present moment that I am worthy of this signal honor but I am proud to have enrolled my name in this cause which will surely add a new lustre to our flag and make this world safe for democracy and I trust before my bit is accomplished that I may be really worthy of this medal which mere dollars cannot buy.
I am at present in the aviation school at the Great Lakes, Ill., and will complete my course about Sept.
15th. Then I trust I may be sent to a naval aviation base overseas.
I am receiving my Advocate now regularly and if you would have the same wrapped, I would receive the same in better condition. With my kindest personal regards to you and yours, I am, Respectfully yours,
William A. Ashbrook, Jr.
Co. P, 2, 15th Regt., New Aviation Field, Great Lakes, Ill.

The following letter was received
July 20:
June 13, 1918.
Miss Mary E. Cooper, Glenford,
Ohio.
Dear Sister:
Since I last wrote you I have received about three letters from you besides the copy of the "Standard" which you so thoughtfully sent me.
I should have written sooner, but being busy engaged in other matters, including a hitch in the trenches, I postponed writing when I should.
Was sorry to learn of Katie's illness, and I hope it proved not so serious as they thought, and that she has been fully restored to health

Plodder Reaches Goal.
With the plodder you can reap intense satisfaction in self-conscious growth. This comes with achievement.
When you get to the point that what once was hard is now easy you can know you have gained in power. And the best of it is that each tiny gain makes the next step so much easier.
When you just plod on you are constantly adding to your doing power.
Other people will notice it, but you will be the best judge. Then when good sense adds its judgment to ability to do, tasks once hard are easy.
When the world gets awake to that fact it will begin to praise what it once regarded as common stupidity.
It's certainly a pleasure to see public opinion changing front and know that it's all merited. It's part of the plodder's reward.—Pennsylvania Grit.

AMUSEMENTS

"Carmen of the Klondike."
One of the big and intensely dramatic stories in "Carmen of the Klondike," the new Selwyn production starring Clara Williams, which is the first picture to be shown by the State-Lights distributors and which will be shown at the Auditorium theatre for two weeks, commencing tomorrow is a great light which comes as a climax in the latter part of the production. The combatants are Edward G. Robinson, the hero of the story, and Herschel Mayall, portraying the role of the villain, "The Klondike." The battle of tests by far surpasses any fight which has ever been enacted before a motion picture camera. It covers hundreds of feet of film and plays an important part in the development of the plot.

Two men, fighting viciously, dash from burning building and stagger into the street of the town, foretelling of all else they struggle in knee-deep mud, amid a downpour of rain and in the teeth of an Arctic gale. They battle until blood and mud disguise their features and make them seem what they are—no longer humans but raging beasts. Clothes torn off, bodies with mere rags clinging to them, sudden real knock-down blows and scrambling to their feet for more, as crazed and bestial as the fighters, watches and urges them on regardless of the rain.

"Her Blighted Love."
In these perilous days of war, comedy is as wholesome as is medicine to the dyspeptic. It is because of this that the new announcement that a Paramount-Mack Sennett comedy is to be displayed at any theatre, seems to be a great treat to everyone who admires real-blooded, wholesome action without the stupid over-acted "melodrama" which is the most common production which has been shown at the Auditorium theatre in a long time.

"The Libertine."
There is a word while story in "The Libertine," which will be shown at the Auditorium theatre next Tuesday and Wednesday. It deals with people and situations that we see in every day life, but gives the inside of them in a way that is not for everyone to know. Outspoken, unscrupulous, and of various characters of wealth and prestige commends the piece to the average theatregoer. It is not a "walk-off" sort of picture play, but like life itself teaches by force of example. While there is a strong, swift, and action like this, the story is full of wholesome scenes of a happy home and a pretty romance between a beautiful girl and a manly youth.

JOHN MASON
"THE LIBERTINE"
His leading star, seen to better advantage than in the title role of this picture. He plays with vigor and verve the part of the libertine, who is well known in good society on account of his readiness to entertain lavishly. Mason shows us a man who is also the innocent by hiding his real self behind a mask of the good man of the world.

"Peck's Bad Boy."
In hundreds of cities in this country, "Peck's Bad Boy," which is billed for the Auditorium theatre next Saturday, Monday and Tuesday, is a great treat for attendance. There is scarcely a theatre-goer in this community who cannot recall some time or other when this favorite old comedy with music, has not "stood them up" in a local playhouse. Particularly true is this of the children. The old favorite has not been seen in the local theatre for some time, and its return will be welcomed by the many people who remember it as a past enjoyable experience. It has been brightened and refreshed with the addition of new songs and dances and the interpreting company is the best which has ever been congregated for the play.

Auditorium Notes.
Dorothy Dalton, now showing at the Auditorium in the Paramount Feature, "The Price Mark," has made many friends in Newark with her clever acting. It is seen today for the last time. The Hearst-Pathé-News is also seen. C. H. Nelson Morris, traveling representative for the Famous Players-Lasker, out of Cleveland, spent a few hours yesterday with Manager Penberg of the Auditorium. Mr. Morris is talking about the coming season's releases, says, Paramount and Arcturion will be better than ever. One of the late stars who will make pictures for this Corp. is Enrico Caruso, the famous singer. Mr. Penberg positively promises the Paramount-Mack Sennett comedy tomorrow, called "Her Blighted Love," in which Clara Williams, Wayland Trask, Vera Steadman, Alice Davenport, Eric Kenton, Harry Brooker, Al McKinnon are seen to good advantage. You'll enjoy this one.

TO-MORROW (SUNDAY AND MONDAY)
A RED BLOODED FIGHTING STORY OF THE TWO-FISTED MEN OF THE NORTH

IF YOU'RE TIRED OF NABBY-FAMBY PLOTS; IF YOU WANT EXCITEMENT, DESPERATE ADVENTURE—THE THRILLS OF BATTLE—here's a story to make red blood flow and pulses quicken. All of the gold-mund days; all the fascination that was woven around the primitive men and adventurous women, who went into the melting pot of the last frontier in search of the phantom treasure. Like romantic gladiators, who meet in the arena of the north, you see those virile men battle in the rain and sleet of the streets of a "mushroom" mining camp. Primitive habits, who knew no law, save the rule of bare knuckles, and being first on the draw, ready to slay for the fickle smile of a dance-hall girl.

It's a bully story—seven reels—telling a story of men in the rough, which many critics have said is the biggest red-blooded story that has come out of the North.
